- Walking Safari: Chitwan means 'Heart of the Jungle' and a guided walk takes you to its source. Guided by an experienced naturalist, your eyes will be focused on the ground, peering into the trees, prying through foliage and, at times, even looking behind you. Added to the extraordinary lush jungle scenery, vivid birds and wild animals are the unique indigenous local people, the Tharus. A professional guide will accompany you through the area as you gather insight into the Tharu way of life.
- Elephant Safari: Elephant safari in Chitwan National Park is an unforgettable experience that allows you to get up close and personal with the park's incredible wildlife from a unique vantage point. As you gently sway atop an elephant's back, you'll have the chance to spot one-horned rhinos, Royal Bengal tigers, gaur, spotted deer, monkeys, and countless bird species amidst the lush greenery.
- Bird watching: Bird watching in Chitwan National Park is an absolute treat for avian enthusiasts, offering a chance to spot over 576 species, representing 65% of Nepal's total bird diversity! This incredible variety is due to the park's diverse habitats, ranging from lush grasslands and sal forests to oxbow lakes and the mighty Rapti River.
